

King of the birds

Parrot and Jay were sitting in the branches of a dark fir tree. They were having a quarrel.

"We birds are always quarreling," chirped Parrot.

What we need is a king. A grand king of all the birds, to see that we play fair."

Jay agreed.

They set a day for all the birds to have an important meeting. At the meeting they would choose a king.

Poor Crow was upset.

"No one will choose me," he chirped sadly.

"I look too dull to be a king. Cockatoo looks fantastic! And look at little Hummingbird! As for me - I've got no chance."

1. Why does Crow think no one will choose him to be king?

2. Parrot and Jay were sitting in the branches of a dark fir tree. They were having a quarrel.
